NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORK

Vol. 36

April, 1933

Number 3

Social work is meeting the greatest crisis in its history. Its tasks are stupendous. The necessary adjustments of its organization and leadership both lay and professional are swift and at times almost paralyzing. Programs and methods that have been years in the making are being discarded or seriously crippled. There is a winnowing of the wheat from the chaff. What must be saved for future service?

New social work programs, methods, and leadership are developing in a thousand communities. Out of the emergencies of the hour are coming new thinking and planning not only for today but for the future. The discouragement and bewilderment of today are but that black hour before the dawn of a new day and a new social order in which social work and social workers will assume their appropriate place in the leadership of the new era.

Human welfare is at stake. It is time to consolidate our forces, to think clearly, to face facts squarely. The social work of the country will look to Detroit in June for leadership and encouragement. The National Conference of Social Work was born in the depression of 1873. It has lived and served through each succeeding crisis in our national history. It will not fail in 1933.

FRANK J. BRUNO,
President.

DETROIT, JUNE 11-17

Because of the banking situation in Detroit it has been necessary to give up the Masonic Temple as headquarters for the Conference. Headquarters have been shifted to the Hotel Statler. Those who remember the Conference in Boston will know how satisfactory this arrangement can be. Registration service, information, consultation service and all the usual services attendant at Conference Headquarters will be at the Hotel Statler. All meetings of the Conference and of Associate and Special Groups have been reassigned to downtown hotels and churches. The new arrangement has relieved the social work group in Detroit of all financial responsibility for local expenses. At the same time it has not added anything to the financial responsibility or expense of the National Conference for the holding of the annual meeting.

It will be an economy Conference. Every non-essential expense will be omitted. Many of the services which are ordinarily regarded as necessary and desirable will be cancelled this year. The hotels have guaranteed to make no increases in the rates for rooms above their tariffs as published in the Bulletin. The prices for luncheons and dinners have been kept at the minimum compatible with reasonably good service and represents the lowest prices for such affairs in recent years. All entertainment and social features of the Conference requiring unusual expense have been cancelled. This will be a working Conference, one-hundred per cent. It will be possible for delegates to attend at a lower expense than has been possible for many years.

Advance hotel reservations indicate a good attendance, particularly from the middle-west. A glance at the program shows that the Conference will come to grips realistically with fundamental economic and social problems facing social work.

A Source of New Ideas.

MATTERS FINANCIAL*Quarterly Billing for Membership Fees.

The new plan of quarterly instead of monthly billing of membership fees which was authorized by the Executive Committee last October and announced in preceding issues of the Bulletin is working well. Statements for the membership fees previously falling due during April, May and June, were mailed from the Conference office just prior to April 1st. By including the ballot the cost of a separate mailing was saved. Members are urged to renew promptly.

Special Contributions.

Early in the year members of the Conference were asked to make a special contribution in addition to their membership fee for this year. The response has been good under the circumstances. 370 members have paid or pledged a total of $1,065.00 to date. These special contributions vary from $1.00 to $100. If you are planning to make a special contribution this year and have not yet done so, please notify the Conference office soon.

Revised Budget.

The officers of the Conference have been keeping close watch on the finances of the Conference. Effective March 1st they made revised estimates of expenditures for the coming year which reduced this part of the budget by approximately twenty per cent. Most of this represents further reduction in salaries of staff members and adjustments in staff following the annual meeting in June. Every effort is being made to keep the operating expense of the Conference within the operating income. Complete financial reports will be given at the annual business meeting in Detroit.

NOMINATIONS*To the members of the Conference:

Your Nominating Committee for the coming year earnestly desires to express the will of the membership of the Conference in its report to be rendered in Detroit. To that end, may we ask you at this time to give serious thought to your own choices for the offices of president, vice-president and members of the Executive Committee for the coming year and to express these choices to us in advance of the Conference? The earlier we know how the thinking of the membership is running, the more careful consideration we can give to the subject and the greater chance there is that our report may be satisfying to you. Please use the blank provided on Page 20 to send us your suggestions or write us fully of your wishes. The Conference belongs to its members; let us know whom you want as its officers!

Very sincerely yours,

Ruth Taylor
Chairman, Nominating Committee
East View, New York.

INVITATIONS FOR 1935

Mr. Robert W. Kelso, who was appointed Chairman of the Time and Place Committee, has found it necessary to resign. Mr. Robert Lansdale of Washington, D. C., has been appointed Chairman of the Committee in the place of Mr. Kelso.

Communities planning to invite the Conference for 1935 can secure detailed information from the Conference office. The Committee on Time and Place will hold its first meeting on Monday, June 12th at 4:00 P. M. at the Hotel Statler in Detroit, at which time invitations will be heard. Formal invitations with supporting data may be sent to Mr. Robert Lansdale, Indian Office, Washington, D. C.

REGISTRATION

Every person attending the Conference should register at Conference Headquarters immediately upon arrival at Detroit. Registration will be opened Saturday morning June 10th, at the Hotel Statler. Members of the Conference will avoid confusion and delay if they will be sure to bring their membership cards with them. For members of the Conference and authorized representatives of member agencies there is no registration fee. Persons registering as the representative of an agency should be sure to have the blue registration certificate, copies of which were sent to all member agencies the first of April. Non-members of the Conference pay a registration fee of $2.00. However, if they become members of the Conference at the time of registering, the registration fee is waived. All persons, whether members of the Conference or not, who are interested in the Conference or in attending the annual meeting are more than welcome.

Discussing a Particular Problem.

CONSULTATION SERVICE

One of the greatest values of the Conference is the opportunity to discuss particular local or personal problems with expert leadership from all over the country.

For the newcomers to the Conference who may be a bit bewildered by the complexity of the program there is "Uncle Alec" Johnson, the General Consultant of the Conference, who will be glad to talk with them on how to get the most out of the Conference. He will have a booth at Conference Headquarters.

The following organizations have reserved booths at Conference Headquarters for consultation purposes. Staff members will be in attendance at definite hours each day and available for personal conferences.

HOTEL RESERVATIONS

There are ample hotel accommodations in Detroit. However, if you wish to secure minimum rate rooms, it is advisable to get your reservation in at once. Consult the list of hotels on page 19 of this Bulletin and send in your reservation on the blank provided there. Requests for reservations sent directly to Mr. J. Lee Barrett, 1805 Stroh Building, Detroit, Michigan, Chairman of the Committee on Hotels and Housing, will receive prompt attention.

Every effort will be made to secure the accommodations you request. The list of hotels given on page 19 are recommended for you. They offer a range of price from inexpensive to the more expensive accommodations. They are cooperating with the Conference in providing comfortable and adequate accommodations for Conference delegates.

REDUCED RAILWAY FARES

Railroad identification certificates entitling members of the Conference to reduced fare to Detroit were mailed from the Conference office on the first of April. Full instructions as to selling and return dates, stopover privileges and so on are issued with each certificate. The thirty-day return privilege will give ample opportunity for Conference delegates who wish to attend the Century of Progress in Chicago to do so either enroute to or from Detroit or as a special side trip from Detroit.

Although the question was again raised this year with the Passenger Associations requesting the privilege of sending railroad certificates to all persons who wish to attend the meeting in Detroit regardless of membership, the Passenger Associations have ruled that certificates can be issued only to members of the Conference.

TRAVELLING BY AUTO

Many delegates will wish to drive to Detroit. The Conoco Travel Bureau offers free road maps and advice concerning routes, detours to be avoided and so on. Any person may secure this information free by addressing the Conoco Travel Bureau, Denver, Colorado.

LUNCHEONS AND DINNERS

The usual ticket office for securing tickets in advance for luncheons and dinners held during the Conference week will be at the Hotel Statler. It is important to secure tickets for these occasions in advance so that adequate provision may be made. Prices this year for luncheons run from sixty-five cents to one dollar and for dinners from eighty-five cents to one dollar and a half. Every effort is being made to keep the costs of these luncheons and dinners at a minimum compatible with reasonably good service.

If you are not now a member of the Conference, it is a good time to become one. By joining the Conference now, you will secure your membership card, railroad certificate and other special privileges attendant to the annual meeting well in advance and thus avoid confusion and possibly delay at the last moment. The classes of membership are as follows:

Active—$5.00. This is the usual class for personal members. (If you do not wish the Proceedings, the fee is $3.00).

Sustaining—$10.00. This class is designed for individuals who wish to share to a greater extent in the financial support of the Conference.

Institutional—$25.00. This class is reserved solely for agencies, organizations, and institutions.

Contributing—$25.00 or more. This class of membership is for individuals contributing $25.00 or more annually and for such organizations as may contribute any sum in excess of the institutional membership fee and elect to be classed as a contributing member.

TWO-HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLAR AWARD

Following the annual meeting of the Conference in Philadelphia, Mr. Chester D. Pugsley of Peekskill, New York, volunteered an annual award of $250.00 to be administered by the National Conference of Social Work. Subsequently the Executive Committee authorized a special committee to consider with Mr. Pugsley his offer and to outline more definitely the field in which the award is to be given and other considerations or limitations that should be established. The Committee of which Mr. Stanley Davies is the Chairman reported to the Executive Committee at its meeting on January 3rd, and made the following recommendation which was unanimously adopted:

"That the National Conference of Social Work accept the award of $250.00 from Mr. Chester D. Pugsley of Peekskill, and that this award be made in 1933, and in subsequent years if renewed, to the person (or persons) professionally employed in social work who, in the judgment of the Editorial Committee, have presented at the National Conference of Social Work the paper (or papers) adjudged to have made the most important contribution to the subject matter of social work; that the President of the National Conference, as an ex-officio member of the Editorial Committee, be excluded from eligibility to this award; that the Editorial Committee set up specific criteria for adjudging the paper or papers considered for the award; and that the Special Committee to whom this matter has been referred, consisting of Miss Hoey and Mr. Davies, make further recommendations to the Executive Committee as to the definition of 'persons professionally employed in social work'."

Papers submitted before the National Conference of Social Work in 1933 at Detroit will be considered for this award under the regulations as they are worked out.

VOTING BY MAIL

The vote by mail system goes into effect this year. The official ballot has been mailed to all members of the Conference. This includes not only members now entitled to vote but those who will become entitled to vote upon the payment of the membership fee. If you are unable to attend the meeting in Detroit, send your ballot in to the Conference office according to instructions on the ballot. Ballots may also be deposited at the Voting Booth at the Conference Headquarters in Detroit at the usual time for voting. The polls will close on Thursday, June 15th at 5:00 P. M., when all ballots will be turned over to the Committee on Tellers.
